

It's been ages!

Since our last edition last year, we've been working on our first print edition. It's super packed with such cool content well thought through and packaged just for you. It's our best edition yet and we can't wait to share it with you. This edition is a special one leading up to that.

Something about people who know how to keep an image or build a perception about themselves has always intrigued me. So this edition has a post on a few tricks you can borrow to let everyone think you are smart. And then there is a collage of beautiful Ghanaian people from last year's very popular hashtag #Fineghanatwitter.

And then we share a feature from our upcoming print edition featuring 4 Ghanaian Fine Artistes you should check out.

There is more from this edition on our website. www.sparkmag.live. Kindly visit and comment on the posts.

We want to vibe with you on social media. Visit @sparkghana on Facebook, Instagram and Twitter

TRICKS TO HAVE EVERYONE BELIEVE YOU ARE SMART EVEN THOUGH YOU ARE NOT

They say perception is everything. This is very true in this social media age we live in. What you make people believe about you is the story they will tell others and how they will relate to you. Crafting a perfect image of yourself will go a long way to help you. To have people believe in your desired image, you need to stick to a pattern of lifestyle and behaviour in your life and even on social media. This post will share 7 of such behaviour patterns you can employ to make everyone believe that you are the next Finstein.

These 7 tips will carve the perception in everyon'e mind that you are focused and heading somewhere. People will take your opinions more seriously and think you are the next great philosopher. Good luck trying out these tips.

TAKE BLACK & WHITE PICTURES OF YOU LOOKING INTO THE SKY

All great men and women have a picture like this. Looking into the sky shows that you are a person who looks into the future. The black and white effect gives it a timeless look too. You can alternatively take a picture where your hand is resting on your chin to give your personality an air of thoughtfulness. It may cost you a little getting a photographer to give you the right look but invest in it and you will be in the league of deep people who ever lived

CREATE FAKE DEEP QUOTES

Having quotes people know you by is always a good thing. It gives people the sign that you think deeply about life. Hopefully, other people will quote those words and become your disciples.

People naturally assume that you are smart when you wear glasses. It could be that you developed an eye problem from endless hours looking into books and computer screen. Even if you don't have an eye problem, buy one and wear always. The best part is that whenever you want to make a serious point, you can take it off for emphasis.

Whenever your team or class members are confused about something, wait until everyone has spoken and then come in later. The period you wait can help you gather everyone's thoughts and help you find something wise to say. Also, the group will see you as the voice which comes in to calm matters and solve issues.

spark

Alternative taste in music, fashion, film and books will have everyone thinking you are different. They will also believe that you search deeper for smarter sources. This taste will support all those deep quotes you say. Intead of reading Shakespeare, read a writer from Iceland no one knows about. Instead of listening to hiphop, listen to rock music from the 70's. Just make sure they are real so people can find them online if they ever try to investigate.

Take yourself seriously and others will take you too. Have a serious schedule everyone should abide by. If someone wants to visit you and you actually have noting doing, pretend to look at a calendar and give the person a time to be there. Soon, everyone will see you as a principled person who sees time as a precious asset.

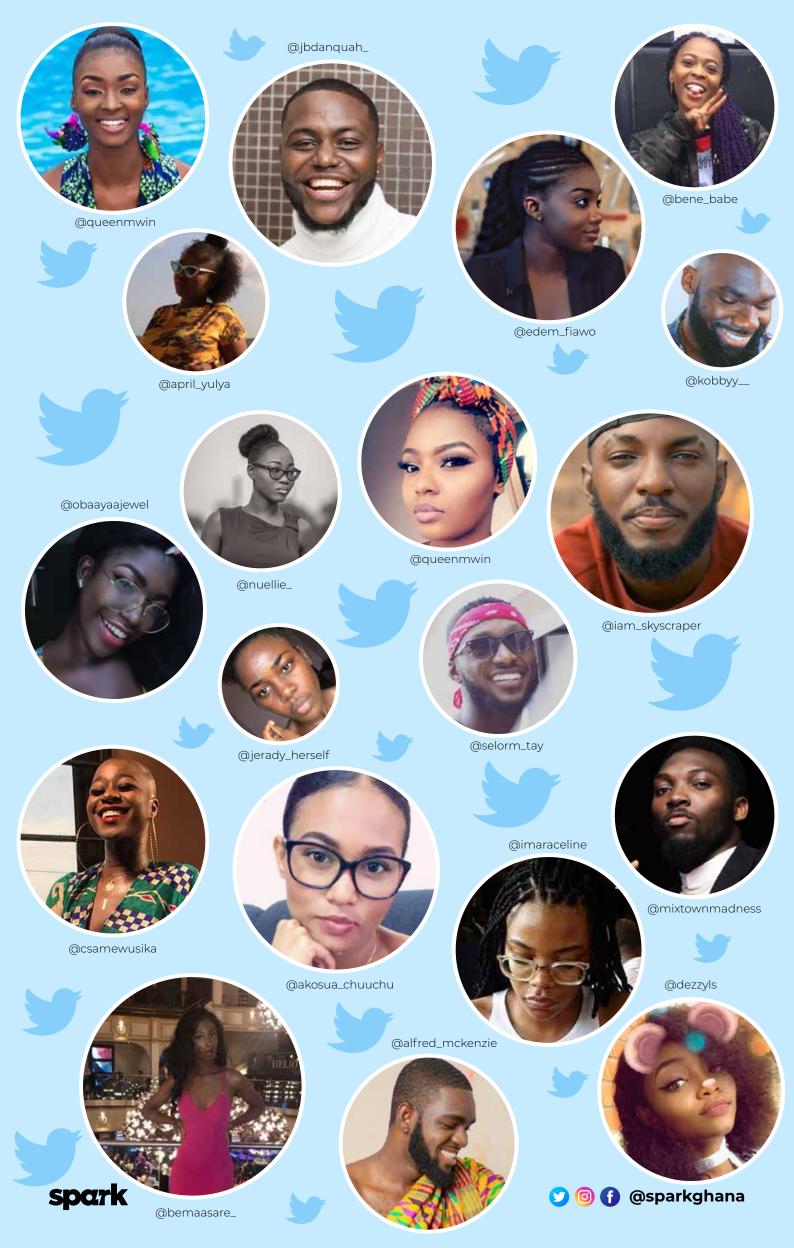

#FineGhanaTwitter

Every now and then, the internet comes together through a hashtag. Sometimes, its to commemorate an event, or raise awareness for a course. Amongst the many in 2018, one stood out last year for us. #fineghanaTwitter had Ghanaians from all over the world showing their best pictures and tagging with their tribe and #fineghanaTwitter. The results is loads of gorgeous images of Chanaians and we want to celebrate this moment of Unity and Ghanaian excellence.

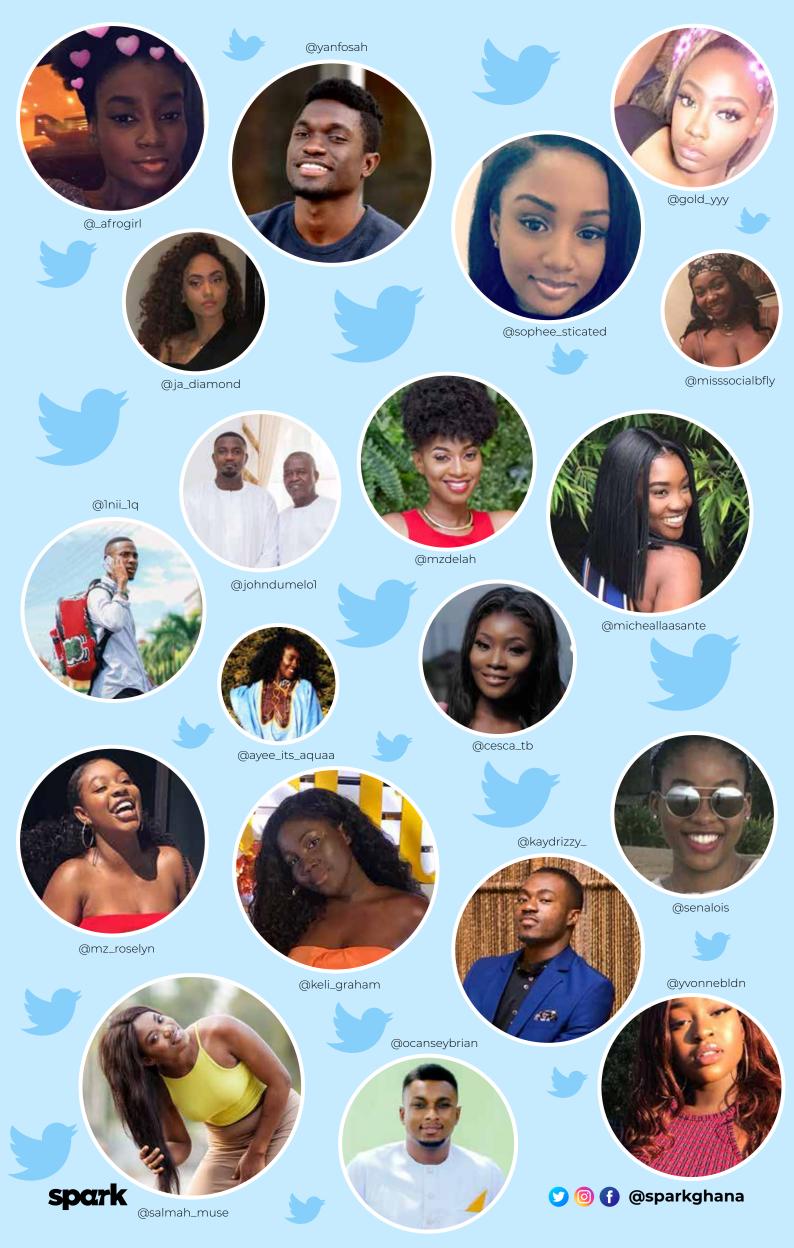

Fula & Ice kenkey, always a good idea.

YOUNG FINE ARTISTS CREATING MASTERPIECES

We love young people who are expressing themselves in their own unique way. Especially when it's picking a pen, pencil, brush or using digital mediums to create masterpieces. In this post, we feature 4 of such young budding Artists who have taken their passion for art many notches up. Get to know them and fall in love with their work.

AWO TSEGAH

Awo is interested in Ghanaian culture and how through image rebuilding.

Follow Awo on Twitter: awo_tsegah and

02 RITALUCIA

Ghanaian Nigerian artist. She considers her style a "work in progress". However, she draws inspiration patterns in clothes and nature. She usually draws in black and white but is looking to explore other backgrounds soon. Retalucia cites other Artistes like Xane Asiamah and the British Indian artist Priyanka as some of her biggest influences. Priyanka's work was so special that its what moved her to hit the artboard and express herself.

XANE

Xane Asiamah is a young artist from Ghana who specializes in realistic drawings and colourful paintings created through charcoal, ink, acrylic paint and graphite. Xane's versatility is seen in his art as he constantly combines digital art and design to create masterpieces. Xane continues to experiment and express himself through unique art we all love.

Follow Xane on Twitter: @xaneasiamah and Instagram: xaneasiamah to see more of his work.

ELIZABETH

Elizabeth Nana Aboaqye is a student at Radford University. She specializes in Abstract painting. Her art is influenced by human emotions and experiences. A recognizable trait in her work is sad faces. She believes that art signifies intelligence. It has the power to transform the world, educate and inspire others. She wants to become a tattoo artist and eventually move to other art forms like music in the near future.

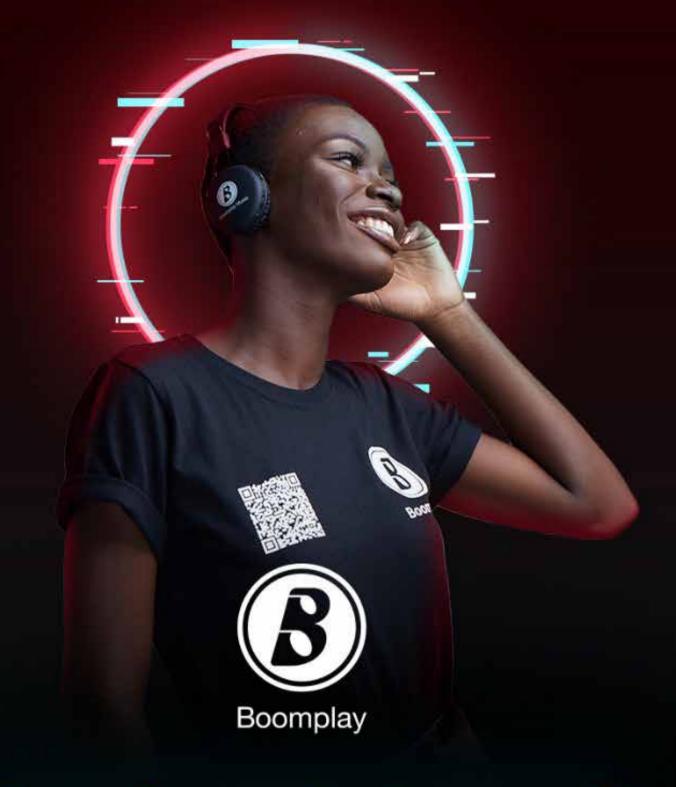

Follow Elizabeth on Instagram: @fanice27 and Snapchat: @fanice27

Good music from all around the world

Download Boomplay on IOS and Android

Share this good stuff with your friends and group chats

Visit our social media pages @sparkghana on facebook, Instagram and Twitter and let's vibe.

There is even more awesome stuff on our website. Tap on www.sparkmag.live

Email us on

sparkmagazinegh@gmail.com

to contribute or talk to us.

💟 🌀 🚹 @sparkghana